Blog Requests

Story details should be submitted by at least the day before a blog runs. The earlier the story, ideas and details are received, the better opportunity for planning the best time to post them to get the most publicity ahead of an event.

Blogs typically run every Monday and every Friday. Recommendations are as follows:

Monday blog submission: Requests should be made between noon the previous Friday and 5 p.m. the Sunday before the item is to run in the Monday blog.

Friday blog submission: Requests should be made between noon the previous Monday and 5 p.m. the Thursday before the item is to run in the Friday blog.

BID members may also get news about their businesses posted on the BID Facebook page. Please send information (and photos if available) to GlendoraVillageNews@gmail.com at least a day in advance of posting to FB; earlier is better to ensure posting. “News” can be about upcoming sales, special events, new employees, community activities or fundraisers and more in which you, your employees or company are taking part.

Postings on the BID’s Facebook page are on a first-submitted basis, and limitations do apply.
